OXFORD PRESERVATION TRUST

Trust Structure

The Trustees set the strategic direction for the work of the Trust with their Board made up of six elected, six co-opted and six nominated Trustees who are appointed for three-year terms, all of whom are Trust members. There is currently one vacancy for a co-opted member. New Trustees attend a familiarisation day, with the chance to meet the team, and are asked to join a committee and encouraged to attend other committee meetings and events. During any three-year term, a Trustee is expected to attend a re-familiarisation day and to attend a range of events and committee meetings.

The Trustees have appointed Debbie Dance as Director to run the Trust on their behalf, and she is supported by a team of seven (four full-time/three part-time) with relevant professional and administrative skills. The Director manages the work of the Trust day-to-day, implementing strategy and policy, reporting to Committees/sub-Committees meeting quarterly. Committees are chaired by a Trustee, with co-opted members with relevant skills, and professional advisers present as appropriate. Trustees meet four times a year with minutes and written reports provided.

Foreword from the Chair

Amongst other things, this has been a year of commemoration, as we celebrated the 950th birthday of Oxford Castle. We look forward to the 95th anniversary of the foundation of the Trust next year, and surprisingly soon, we will find ourselves marking our centenary. With that in mind, the Trustees have agreed a new strategy, seeking to build on our successes in several exciting ways. In particular, we want to place sustainability at the heart of everything the Trust does. We also want to reach out and connect with all communities in Oxford – especially those who may think of the work of the Trust being somewhat distant from their lives.

It has of course been a year of adaptation – and, sometimes, of improvisation. The stop-start of Covid affected everyone and meant that we could never be quite sure what was happening next. It was remarkable how hard our officers worked and to what excellent effect. The talks and events continued, on-line and in-person when allowed. Oxford Open Doors and the Awards were both brilliant successes. The care of our land and our properties has been unceasing and impressive.

Above all, as this suggests, it has been a year of achievement. This report itemises the many things we can be proud of and other things we can look forward to celebrating next year. None of this would be possible without the dedication of our Director and her team. We also owe a great debt of thanks to our supporters, our Patrons, our Trustees, and to you. The Trust is only able to achieve what it does because of our members. Thank you.

Trust Activities

The Trustees fulfil Trust Aims and Objectives through four areas of work: managing land and buildings, planning, projects, education, and outreach including membership, and in accordance with the Charity Commission guidelines on public benefit.

Trustee Matters

Covid restrictions continued throughout the year, bringing challenges and uncertainty as restrictions changed. There was a balance of remote working and on-site meetings, with committee meetings, AGM and members talks conducted virtually. Outside meetings continued where possible together with special events carefully planned; notably Oxford Open Doors, the Castle 950 celebrations and the Awards. This year's AGM speaker was Lord Mendoza, Patron and Provost of Oriel College, who talked about his role as Commissioner for Cultural Recovery and Renewal.

The Strategy "Towards the Centenary – Our Strategic Plan to 2027" was adopted in June in time for the AGM and copies were sent to members. A working group of Trustees were appointed to undertake a skills audit of the Trustee board, looking at succession planning and future recruitment as we want to ensure that the Trustees have the right skills and diversity to be able to deliver the Strategy. In 2022 a Governance review will take place looking at the Committee structures and their terms of reference ensuring that they are fit for purpose in delivering against the new priorities leading up to the Trust's 100th anniversary. During 2022 plans will be discussed which will give a five-year lead in for such projects as a history of the Trust.

A 2022 Calendar has been produced recording our work across the year, January, The Dreaming Spires from Boars Hill; February, Shakespeare's Painted Room; March, Daffodils on the Castle Mound; April, Shakespeare's Birthday Parade; May, Fritillaries at Heyford Meadow; June, Swinford Meadows; July, Wildflowers at Hinksey Meadows; August, Magdalen College in the lead-up to Oxford Open Doors; September, Autumnal Trees at Wolvercote Lakes; October, Apples at Wolvercote Community Orchard; November, Oxford's Covered Market; December-Oxford Castle at Christmas.

Vice - Presidents

The Trustees were pleased to announce the appointments of Dr Malcolm Graham, and Edith Gollnast as Vice Presidents at this year's AGM, recognising their extraordinary contribution to Oxford and to the Trust through the Oxford Heritage Walks Books.

Tom Hassall was elected as a Vice President in the Autumn in recognition of his outstanding commitment to the Trust. Tom directed the excavations at the Westgate Centre in 1973 and was founding director of the Oxfordshire Archaeological Unit (Oxford Archaeology). He was chief executive of the RCHME 1986-99, and adviser to ICOMOS on the management of World Heritage sites. He has served as President of the Council for British Archaeology and the International Council on Monuments and Sites-UK (ICOMOS-UK). He was also President of OAHs and Chairman of both the Victoria History of Oxfordshire Trust and the Society of Antiquaries of London's Kelmscott Manor Management Committee. Tom is an emeritus Fellow of St. Cross College.

Trustees

We are grateful to County Council Trustee, Lorraine Lindsay-Gale who stood down after the May elections and had made such a positive contribution through her commitment to heritage and the Castle. Isobel Hughes stood down as a University appointed Trustee 2004 – 2021, which allowed us to reflect on the success of the Oxford Children's' Literature gargoyles competition. The new gargoyles which are on the Bodleian, would not have happened without her and the University Estate Department. Tom Hassall also stood down as our longest serving Trustee (1973). During the year, the Trustees were pleased to welcome Dame Helen Ghosh, Master at Balliol College, former Director General of the National Trust and long-term south Oxford resident. Councillor Roz Smith was appointed for the County Council with her knowledge of Headington and interest in heritage. Professor Nick Leimu-Brown has lived in Oxford for over 35 years, is an expert in plant ecology, is Principal of Linacre College and Chair of the University of Oxford's Buildings and Estates Committee, was also appointed.

Team Matters

The lengthy and unpredictable nature of the pandemic brought several challenges and changes to the team during the year. Lindsay Priddle left her post as Land Officer, with the Director and Stephen Dawson managing this role between them. The role of Green Spaces Officer will now have a greater emphasis on community engagement and sustainability, and we look forward to working with Charlie Jackson, a qualified Landscape Architect, who joined us in November. Katie Wylie, Heritage Officer decided to move on, staying with us to ensure the smooth running of the Awards, and overlapping with Shona Carr as Heritage & Outreach Assistant who will move into the role of Planning Assistant in 2022. She will work alongside Laura Warden, Senior Planner, who returned on a part-time basis after maternity leave. Lindsay returned to assist with Oxford Open Doors over the summer and was joined by Heritage Intern, Laurie Dighton. When Ros Connell left her role as Membership Officer after three years, Laurie was offered the post from the beginning of 2022. Stephen will move to be Assistant Operations Director in 2022 in recognition of his increased role in ensuring the smooth running of the Trust alongside Hywel Edwards who oversees Governance and Finance. The annual appraisal system is working well and helps the team to focus on their priorities.

Land & Buildings

Land

A welcome consequence of the pandemic has been the increased interest and awareness in our green spaces by local people and visitors, and the essential part they play in the health and well-being of Oxford. The extra pressure on the 1,000 acres we care for brought an increase in anti-social behaviour and a corresponding hike in workload for the team. Where possible we increased our presence on site and kept in touch with local stakeholders, the police, and community officers were also helpful. We are grateful to those who live close to our land and to our volunteers, and thanks go to Peking University HSBC Business School at Boars Hill, who allowed visitors to use their car park.

Trustees visited Iffley and Rose Hill at this year's summer Land Progress, ending with a picnic on the Iffley Glebe Field. This area has been particularly important as it links to our widening engagement pilot scheme, Rosehill: Heritage & Green Spaces. The Trust owns areas of land which link from Meadow Lane behind the Iffley Road all the way up through Iffley and Rose Hill to Kennington and the Sustrans route to Abingdon. The Trustees were reminded of the need for much better wayfinding, signage, and interpretation across all the green spaces which will be a priority for 2022.

The year saw the return of more regular Volunteer work parties at Wolvercote Lakes, Heyford Meadow, Boars Hill and Kennington Memorial Field. We were pleased to be out and about and meeting with the Good Gym, Oxford Conservation Volunteers and Abingdon Green Gym who do great work. Thanks also to Thomas Chorley (Bronze) and Noah Price (Silver) who collected litter at Boars Hill as part of their Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme.

A planned programme of willow pollarding at Pixey and Yarnton Meads was completed during the year. At Abraham Wood, Jarn Heath and the Matthew Arnold Reserve in Boars Hill, woodland management continues to improve the access to wetland areas, with the support of Trust for Oxfordshire's Environment and Network Rail.

Environmental improvements at Marston Hamm have been slow to happen due to a number of issues with the Grosvenor Estate, who are under obligation to undertake works here. Grazing cattle was introduced as part of the plan to restore the meadow grassland, and further changes to the fencing and ditching will happen over the next year. The circular walk from the Victoria Arms is also under discussion, which will link the walk to the public footpath in 2022. This area is to come under increasing pressure as permission has been granted for a large amount of housing on three nearby sites. Our efforts to work in partnership with the various developers to improve the links to the countryside and encourage active travel have not been positive and have resulted in very little change to their schemes.

During the year the planning application and compulsory purchase papers for the Oxford Flood Alleviation Scheme OFAS were formally withdrawn by the Environment Agency. We have seen an increase in local groups and individuals who have begun to voice their opposition to the scheme which will spoil Hinksey Meadow and the rare M4a grassland and wildflowers. This year, a new record of 750 Snakehead Fritillaries were counted, with thanks to Dr Tim King and Dr Judy Webb. We are grateful to Professor Joe Tah who has taken over as Chair of the OFAS Steering Group. There is a busy year ahead as the Trustees decide on their strategy for defending the Meadow should it remain in the scheme as previously planned.

The Trustees recognise the importance of the covenants held on various land and property to protect Oxford and its setting. This year a garden building was erected on land protected by a restrictive covenant and there was an adverse possession claim at Elsfield Road, Old Marston, with the outcome of both awaited. The Trust has restrictive covenants to protect the use at Shotover Country Park and South Park and are currently liaising with the City Council regarding a long-awaited management plan at the former and the Gin Distillery at the latter, which has yet to deliver on its promise of WCs and café provision.

Properties

OPT owns the freehold of the Victoria Arms, Old Marston and sold a long lease to Wadworth Brewery some years ago, which has now been sold on to a brewery from Somerset, Butcombe Brewery, which operate several pubs in Oxfordshire. After a false start, by the end of the year there were a number of welcome improvements happening. Over the coming year, the Trust will be working to strengthen our partnership and we are grateful to them for agreeing the 10% discount to members.

We have shared our restoration work on the c1430 gothic traceried window at 26 & 26a East St. Helen Street, Abingdon with the SPAB through an article written by Sally Stradling and Dan Miles now available on our website. We look forward to welcoming the SPAB Research and Technical Committee in 2022 to see the work at first hand. As restrictions eased, we introduced monthly tours for members which have proved very popular, and were pleased to open again for Heritage Open Days in September.

At the Painted Room, the annual Shakespeare Birthday Toast was held virtually for a second year, with thanks to Dr Eleanor Lowe of Oxford Brookes University who raised the toast to the immortal bard, followed by an entertaining performance by the Oxford Imps. It was a great opportunity to share the event online and there were a range of family activities and a self-guided Shakespeare walk for everyone to enjoy. From May we re-opened our member tours. Surplus library furniture from St. John's College has found a new home on the upper floor with thanks to Dan Miles. We also thank Trustee Julian Munby who liaised with the Spokes family in sorting out the Oxford library of Ann Spokes Symonds inherited from her father Peter Spokes. The books were on the shelves in time for the family to visit when they were in Oxford for the internment of Ann's ashes.

We have been in discussion for some time concerning the management of the 17th century North Hinksey Conduit House for English Heritage. We finally signed and picked up the key in November and are looking forward to giving it a higher profile locally, with better access and opportunities to visit.

We rounded off the year with great plans to restore and improve the Turn Again Lane Garden with thanks to Walter Sawyer, former Superintendent of University Parks and Land Committee member, who is overseeing the work with expert gardener Avril Hughes. We look forward to sharing the results with everyone.

Projects

We are grateful to the William Delafield Trust, who give a generous grant to the Trust enabling us to carry out heritage and conservation work. This year, this has included contributions to works at 10 Turn Again Lane, the Covered Market, the Painted Room, and 26 East St. Helen Street, Abingdon.

Awards

This year was the 44th year of the Awards, which enjoyed continuing generous sponsorship by Carter Jonas, Critchleys and Mathews Comfort, with support from St. John's College. We attracted a high number of entries of excellent quality across the categories of Building Conservation, New Buildings, Small Projects, Landscape and Public Realm, Temporary Projects and the Green Award. With careful planning the judging panel visited all the entries. We held the Awards evening at St. John's College in November, hosted by William Whyte, where there was a particularly celebratory air after its absence last year. During the evening, twelve plaques were awarded to the Christ Church Visitor Centre; Olivier Hall & Christie Centre, St. Edward's School; transforming St. Hilda's College; JR11 Wolfson Building; Hilda Besse refurbishment at St. Antony's College; the Story Museum; 26 East St. Helen Street, Abingdon; St. Mary & St. Nicholas Church, Littlemore; and Greening Jericho. The Temporary award went to Broad Meadow, and the Green Award to the Kennedy Institute Roof Extension, Old Road Campus, and Springfield Meadows, Southmoor, who have achieved net-zero carbon in development and use which raises the bar for house development in the future. Twelve certificates were also awarded recognising the strength of the projects this year.

Rewley Road Swing Bridge

The restoration of the Swing Bridge was delayed until March as the wet winter prevented us from getting on site. A clever scaffold bridge was erected across the Sheepwash Channel and the whole structure was jacked up to allow access to the underside and mechanism below, all of which was enclosed in a massive tent to prevent any contamination. Over 5,000 rivets were cut so that the components could be separated, then carefully numbered, cleaned and repaired, or a new part made, and all put back together again. The expert way the team at the Morton Partnership and Avon Construction worked together ensured the smooth running of the project, keeping it within budget. Regular newsletters to local residents and interested parties helped us to share progress as the team moved from repairing to painting the finished bridge in its original colours, mostly by hand. In August we were delighted to welcome the Chair of Network Rail, Sir Peter Hendy, who unveiled a plaque to mark the contribution of the Railway Heritage Trust. The tent was removed to reveal the work just in time for Oxford Open Doors. With the growth in confidence, the Railway Heritage Trust and Historic England agreed to offer additional funding to allow the restoration of the North Abutment, on which the bridge would have sat when in its closed position. This work will begin early in 2022, when Historic England will also visit to consider the removal of the Bridge from their Heritage-at-Risk register.

In the autumn, we were delighted to receive news of a further grant from FCC Communities Foundation towards the landscaping. We have been working closely with Oxford University's Geography Department and Urban Bio-Labs who have been looking at the plant growth which has appeared whilst the site has been abandoned. All this will help to inform the landscape design, which will now be much more natural in character than originally envisaged.

The restored Covered Market units in the former Lindsay's Butchers were proudly finished with the support of the William Delafield Trust, and at the end of the year tenants were being sought with one let, looking splendid in occupation. The process has taken longer than envisaged and working across the City's departments has proved a challenge during the lockdowns. However, we are all delighted by the outcome and hope to continue the partnership in the future. Debbie has regular meetings with senior officers about the Market masterplan. This is all part of the City Council's encouragement for everyone to enjoy Oxford's streets again. Summer 2021 saw street cafés in Cornmarket and St. Michael's Street and the cheery green of Broad Meadow at the eastern end of the Broad, became the People's Quad. The Trust supported the initiative throughout and helped with wider engagement with St. Mary Mags, the Colleges and others. In 2022 we are working with the County Council alongside the City and other key stakeholders to see if more of the street can provide better public use. The Broad Street Plan (2004) remains key to the success of this and it is good to see the rekindling of interest.

Oxford Castle at 950

During the year, the Trust worked with our partners to get the Castle site ready for our celebrations. A year-long celebration began in November which received a generous individual donation and contributions from the University. The celebrations began with a visit from DCMS Minister Nigel Huddleston, followed by the newly appointed Lord Lieutenant, Marjorie Glasgow switching on the new lights on the Mound to mark Armistice Day. A series of lectures and talks, and a spectacular Son et Lumiere followed in an evening which saw the Castle celebrated in the most wonderful way. Special thanks go to Oxford University TORCH, who worked with researchers, local historians, local residents and the pupils of West Oxford and St. Ebbe's Schools to bring the history of the Castle to life with light. A series of walks and talks are planned throughout 2022.

Works to restore and improve the Mound and St. George's Tower were completed and included the removal of overgrown ivy so that the Empress Matilda window could be seen again. Thanks go to the County Council officers, their project managers and contractors, to Historic England and to the team at Oxford Castle & Prison who all worked together. In 2022, repair works to the Debtors Tower will begin, with thoughts on how to combat the continuing anti-social behaviour on the Mound.

During the year the Trust worked with Continuum to reach an agreement for a new lease of Oxford Castle & Prison when the current one runs out in early 2022 when the Trust will take back the Education and Café building. A Feasibility Study has been commissioned to look at various options for using the spaces in a more creative way, able to add value to the Trusts' outreach and community engagement work. We are also building on our relationships with the County and with the site owners Land Securities, to enliven the Castle Quarter again.

Planning

We are grateful to the planning committee who have so readily shared their expertise and were this year joined by Oxford Brookes student, Georgina Hamshaw who brought a different perspective to the debates. With limited resources the Committee agreed that it was important for the team to concentrate on larger, more strategic matters and sustainability. With Local Plans for Oxford and the Districts in place in the early part of the year which brought the unprecedented release of Green Belt land for housing, a number of the sites came forward on the northern and eastern edges of the city almost immediately. By summer when the Committee visited Old Marston, two of three sites had permission, with over 400 houses planned up against the conservation area. The ability to influence was limited, as the City Council took the view the need for affordable housing overrode concerns over designs, traffic issues and green transport provision. Outside the Ring Road, the recent Barton Park development is well underway which does provide green space with a linear park, sports provision, schools and community centre. Designs for a further 1,500 plus houses on the adjoining Bayswater Brook site were consulted upon and will include the restoration of the Grade II* Barton Wick Wellhouse which is in a parlous state. With much new housing planned, good public transport will be crucial rather than an overreliance on electric vehicles, and good cycle routes linking to the centres of employment including the hospitals and the station at Oxford Parkway. Within the City Centre there has been a push for the green agenda by the County and City Councils working together, with a Zero Emission Zone, congestion charging and controversial bus gates coming forward for consultation.

Around the edge of the city the remaining Green Belt and open fields are under further pressure including a new road bridge across the Thames, road links to Oxford, where sites in the middle of the countryside have been allocated for housing. A 300 acre solar panel farm on raised ground at Nuneham Courtenay was granted permission by SODC late in the year. A further solar panel site at Cumnor is now being discussed.

The changes to the building height restrictions in the Oxford Local Plan have seen developers suggesting higher buildings. Historic England joined the Trust in expressing concerns to plans to redevelop the Clarendon Centre and the City Council have asked for revisions to the plans to address some of the issues. This application gave the Trust a chance to test the new digital planning model of Oxford created by Vu.City which the City Council and Historic England have invested in. At the moment it only covers the city and not the surrounding hills from where views are experienced and the Trust is working with the various parties on this. During the year plans for a new multi-function Humanities Building on the University's ROQ site were being developed. The team have worked hard to design something that can make better sense of the overall site and fit into this sensitive space adjoining the Radcliffe Observatory. It has to be low enough not to spoil views and inviting enough to attract the public, as well as academics to use the 600 seat theatre, cafes and other facilities. The Trust are keen the public will not only be invited in but will feel comfortable to come. We have been grateful to Historic England who joined the Trust for a tour of Oxford and to talk about issues, and look forward to our continuing partnership with them and everyone in the respective council teams.

Education & Outreach

Oxford Open Doors

We had a weekend of clear blue skies as Oxford Open Doors returned with some of Oxford's most splendid buildings and delightful green spaces attracting 12,500 visitors, 80% of whom were local. All Souls, Balliol, Exeter, Magdalen, New and Wadham Colleges all joined in, where the lucky visitor might catch the vOx Chamber Choir singing in their chapel. The Oxford Bus Museum ran vintage buses around the town and some of Oxford's special hidden places a little further out took part, with the Well House at Barton Wick, the North Hinksey Conduit House and the Carfax Conduit in Nuneham Park. There was a virtual offer together with the popular self-guided Heritage and Green Spaces walks and family activities. We continue to work in partnership with Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust, Sustainable Healthcare, Oxfordshire Mind and Oxford Archaeology.

Oxford Open Doors Members' week this year offered an OPT Awards Walk, college tours, drinks at the Castle and gin at The Oxford Artisan Distillery. William Whyte gave a talk on Oxford architect T. G. Jackson, and Nicola Hewes of Purcell gave the annual RIBA Lecture prior to the launch party in the master's Garden at Christ Church. Sir Tim Stevenson gave the official speech, one of his last engagements before his retirement as Lord Lieutenant, having opened the first Oxford Open Doors in 2008. This was also a chance to recognise Mark Blandford-Baker's contribution to the Trust and Oxford Open Doors as he had recently stood down as Home Bursar at Magdalen College.

We are immensely grateful to everyone who helped make the weekend happen, with particular thanks to the University of Oxford, Historic England, Oxford Bus Company, and all who arrange events and open their doors, and our fantastic volunteers.

We have always wanted to expand the reach of Oxford Open Doors to a younger, more diverse and varied Oxford audience. This year, we worked with the communities of Rose Hill on an idea to unlock interest in their own heritage and create a self-guided trail of the area. We are grateful to Oxford City Council who gave us a small grant which helped us to begin a pilot project, Heritage and Green Spaces: Rose Hill. Local Historian Liz Woolley was commissioned to write a short history to act as a conversation point and working with the primary school, youth group, local church group and other community groups, virtual events and guided walks have taken place. A planned community engagement workshop was delayed and is now planned for early 2022. Our hope is for the community to produce a walk leaflet and family activity sheet, which they can share with friends and neighbours. We also hope they will want to take part in Oxford Open Doors 2022 and invite people from other parts of the city to come and find out more. We are now looking at ways to roll the project out into other communities across the city which will need funding to include a community engagement officer.

The Trust has been collaborating with researchers from Oxford University and the Open University on Urban BioLabs, which explores the relationship between discarded heritage and "unwanted" plants which provide protection, biodiversity and aesthetic benefits. A popular workshop ran on the Castle Mound during Oxford Open Doors and work is now ongoing at the Rewley Road Swing Bridge.

With our commitment to young people and heritage, the Trustees are to sponsor Shona on the part-time Historic Conservation MSc at Oxford Brookes University. We are delighted to have strengthened our links with this course further by offering an annual internship to a student which brings a financial reward to compensate for the time spent, and a chance to be part of the OPT Planning Committee and Awards panel. The Award will be made in early 2022 thanks to a generous donation.

The Oxford in a Box books continue to sell with over 200 box sets sold, with thanks to Ros Connell for her contribution. We are grateful to Malcolm Graham for continuing to lead regular members walks, which this year related mainly to Book 6 'from the High to Trill Mill'. In 2022, we will need to consider reprinting some of the individual books as supplies are running low, and discussions are taking place about providing footnotes to the texts and making them downloadable from the OPT website.

Communications & Digital

We have continued to build our digital skills, and our virtual talks programme has seen a larger audience than we could accommodate in person. In 2022, we will continue to offer virtual and hybrid events to allow greater access. Our social media presence remains strong, using Facebook, Twitter and Instagram, which help to widen participation and knowledge of our work. We give talks to a range of groups and organisations across Oxfordshire. Debbie's Blog and Oxford Times column continue to provoke discussion and this year's titles include Oxford in a Box; A glorious Summer ahead; Roadmap by any other name; A picture worth a thousand words; New housing deserves the very best of planning; Summer Gardens at Oxford; Oxford Open Doors – a window onto real Oxford; A Green Hill in the Centre of the City; and, Our proud little row of 17th century cottages are dwarfed by the Westgate. All the past articles are available on our website. Our regular email updates have been popular and will continue next year alongside with the development of the new website, which has been delayed.

Membership

Our membership remains loyal, and we are heartened by the unwavering support shown, with regular donations made to fund our core work following our Heritage Fund appeal in 2020. There have been 144 events over the year, including lots of guided walks as diverse as 'the coming of the Railway' and 'the history of New Hinksey' with Liz Woolley; a city walls walk with Julian Munby; University Parks to the Vicky Arms with Walter Sawyer; and an evening walk at Kennington Meadows to look for glow worms with thanks to Sustran's Lydia Blake.

Our Corporate and College Members are important to us and we are grateful for the consistent support over the past two years. Many of our supporters are involved in design and development and joined us virtually for the Awards at the beginning of the year and caught again at the Awards in November. Next year we are hoping to introduce a new CPD event with the chance to meet with VuCity, the organisation behind the new 3D digital planning and design tool for Oxford. A full list of our Corporate and College Members can be found at Page 22.

The support shown by our 87 Patrons in the Betjeman Circle has made a huge difference to our ability to keep going over the past two years and we are grateful for two particularly generous donations. The Patrons joined us for the virtual Shakespeare's birthday toast and for a series of real tours led by William Whyte on T. G. Jackson, ending with drinks in the OPT garden. Patrons also joined us for the Oxford Open Doors launch and at the Castle in November for a lecture with John Goodall, Country life's Architectural Editor, and drinks in the Crypt for the 950th anniversary.

We have missed seeing members of the Centenary Circle, our legacy group, unable to thank everyone in person at the Chairman's tea, for a second year. We have kept in touch by letter and are looking forward to seeing everyone again in 2022.

We are grateful to the Hon. Nancy Stamp who left a generous gift in her Will. Nancy was a longstanding supporter, a life member from 1994 as well as being Chair of our North Oxford Area Committee until 2008. We are also grateful to Ann Spokes Symonds who left a legacy to support the Trust's work and to those who made donations in her memory. We thank the family and friends of Area Patron Mark Barrington-Ward, and of Roy Newport who made generous donations in their memory. We were saddened to learn of the death of OPT Patron, Charles Young and Area Patron, Sacha Wernberg-Møller, both of whom were long standing supporters of our work.

Financial

The main feature of the year, despite the continuing impact of Covid, has been the progress made on the Rewley Road Swing Bridge. This has seen us receive a further £191,094 from our funders spending £652,111 in nearly completing its restoration. The Castle & Prison re-opened for part of the year and despite not seeing the pre-pandemic footfall has generated a small increase of £12,696 in the fund to be used for its benefit. The Accounts to 31 December 2021 show a net loss on ordinary activities of £416,378 which includes net expenditure of £450,955 on the restricted funds for specific schemes including the Swing Bridge. Income from legacies and a loss on the disposal of an investment reduced the net deficit to £395,534. Unrealised gains on the investment portfolio of £376,205 resulted in a net reduction in funds of £19,329 for the year.

The Trust holds Restricted Funds for specific projects with Unrestricted Funds available for general use, both as cash and investments. The Trust's land and property is held in furtherance of the Trust's aims and objectives and is shown as designated funds in the accounts. Unrestricted reserves are held in furtherance of the Trust's strategic aims and objectives.

The Trustees continue to look to balance income and expenditure and the OPT team, led by the Director, work hard to achieve this, keeping down costs of administration ensuring best value in all areas. The Trust operates a policy where funding for particular projects must be identified before work takes place. Expenditure on planning, continues to reflect our investment in this area of work throughout the year.

Investment

The Investment Sub-Committee has a responsibility to oversee investment policy and meets quarterly to review the performance of the Trust's portfolio. As at 31st December 2021, the investments totalled £4,117,811. £2,381,250 was in the Cazenove Charity Responsible Multi-Asset Fund, following the transfer of funds to it in January 2021, and £1,736,561 was invested in the Sarasin Climate Active Endowment Fund. These investments reflect our objective of maximising the investment performance, in a balanced way, whilst also positioning the Trust as a responsible investor.

Total investment income was £116,121 and was used to fund work of the Trust (2020: £105,325). Overall, the investment portfolio generated a total return (income and capital growth, less costs) of £463,073 (2020: £190,103). This represented a total return of 12.3% in 2021 (2020: 5.2%). This was considered to be a satisfactory performance in the context of the market conditions.

Reserves

At year end the Trust had total assets of £7,343,566. This is made up of £2,727,477 representing tangible and heritage assets, £4,458,390, representing Investments, other designated funds and general funds and £157,699 in restricted funds. The latter is down from £606,944 in 2020, primarily due to expenditure on the LMS Swing Bridge. Within the unrestricted funds £168,233 remains designated for two projects, the renovation of Lord's Farm (£128,478) and the LMS Swing Bridge project (£39,755).

The Trust holds unrestricted reserves to enable it to move quickly to secure land in line with our strategic aims and objectives. Additionally, income from the investment portfolio provides a large proportion of our routine annual expenditure and is essential to maintain the Trust's ongoing activities.

Risks

The Trust has identified seven main financial risks:

- Loss of key personnel.
- Impact of Covid 19 with uncertainties over how long it will continue, and financial impact.
- Future loss of funding due to Brexit relating to land.
- Diversion of funds due to the unprecedented planning growth around Oxford.
- Diversion of funds due to the Oxford Flood Alleviation Scheme (OFAS).
- Cost overrun on the restoration of Rewley Road Swing Bridge.
- Inflationary pressures.

The Trust operates through a small team, some of whom are key to the activities of the Trust and attracting funding. The Trustees are mindful of the importance of valuing these individuals. During the year the Trustees have begun to consider the issue of succession planning to provide continuity when individuals move on.

Covid 19 presents numerous financial risks to the Trust. The Trust set a cautious budget for 2021 reflecting the unknown course of the pandemic. The experience gained in 2020 and the steps initiated to counter the effects continued to help the Trust mitigate the impact of the pandemic. The Trustees continue to monitor performance.

A significant proportion of the Trust's land income was derived from EU agri-environment grant funding. The Basic Payment Scheme (BPS) is being phased out (2021-2027) and will impact the Trust's income. The Trust is being advised by an experienced land agent team, ensuring future income opportunities including Stewardship schemes.

There is considerable pressure to develop in the City and within the green setting of Oxford. The Trustees are mindful of the need to provide the necessary funds to ensure that there is a strong planning team able to fully engage in this area of the Trust's work.

The proposed Oxford Flood Alleviation Scheme (OFAS) runs through land owned by Trust. In order to mitigate the considerable effects of the OFAS on Trust land and to ensure that the wider planning and compulsory purchase implications are properly considered, the Trust is aware that further unbudgeted funds may be expended.

The Rewley Road Swing Bridge is under contract for restoration work being carried out by a very experienced team and working closely with the funding partners. Regular meetings take place to assess risks and revise cost plans. The project is on course to be delivered within allocated funds.

The Trust is mindful of the potential increases in core costs due to inflation. A cautious budget has been set which is regularly monitored with careful scrutiny of expenditure.
